GROOMING EMPLOYABLE LAWYERS

We would like to welcome you to the Department of Law, Faculty of Law & Government of HELP University where the law comes to life. The philosophy of guiding our students in the mastery of knowledge and understanding of the law fills our teaching system, and we work towards introducing future practitioners to the practical skills that are necessary in legal practice and professional life.

We have two programmes that a student can choose from: the UK Degree Transfer Programme and the HELP University Bachelor of Laws Honours degree.

HELP University is honoured in being one of the first private universities in Malaysia to offer the UK Degree Transfer Programme (Law) which has received full accreditation from the Malaysian Qualifications Agency. As our partners, we have Cardiff University, University of the West of England, Bristol, Aberystwyth University, University of Liverpool, University of Manchester, University of Sheffield, Northumbria University,

University of Hertfordshire, University of Leeds and the School of Oriental & African Studies, London, (SOAS).

We introduced our own Bachelor of Laws Honours degree in 2009, which has received full accreditation from the Malaysian Qualifications Agency, and recognition from the Malaysian Legal Profession Qualifying Board.

Both programmes incorporate a variety of teaching and learning methods and activities, both academic and practical, which strive to ensure that our students receive an integrated education. Our dedicated teaching faculty are qualified and experienced and comprise of a combination of specialised academics and former practitioners.

“ I must give credit to the lecturers who always go beyond their call of duty to offer their support. They value our opinion and encourage us to think out of the box, a skill that I certainly developed at HELP. Besides that, the syllabus and programmes conducted by the University have prepared us to face the real world. They emphasise, amongst others, peer teaching, legal research, negotiation skills, mediation and I learned to value different opinions to ensure teamwork. I would without a doubt recommend HELP to anyone wishing to pursue studies in law”.

RESEARCH AND PUBLICATIONS

THE HELP LAW REVIEW is a refereed law publication of the Faculty of Law. It serves as an incubator of knowledge and ideas, and promotes legal writing and legal thinking amongst academics and members of the legal fraternity.

THE HELP STUDENT LAW JOURNAL is a student-led publication of the Faculty of Law and Government. The Editorial Board and contributors to the law journal comprise undergraduates who carry out the editing and writing of articles. Contributors are guided by the academic staff of the faculty, acting as 'supervisors' to ensure that it is an enriching and knowledgeable endeavour for all involved.

Research in both these journals covers a range of areas that are both traditional and cutting-edge. These are relevant to the students at undergraduate level in facilitating research for their assignments and year three dissertations.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT COURSES AND GUEST LECTURES

The Faculty conducts Professional Development Courses and Guest Lectures which are facilitated by eminent legal practitioners, professors, retired and foreign judges on topical areas of the law. By attending these courses, students are exposed to the various areas of legal practice.

SENIOR MEMBERS OF THE LEGAL PROFESSION GIVE GUEST LECTURES THAT ENHANCES STUDENTS' KNOWLEDGE OF THE LAW.

“HELP is a wonderful episode in my life. Fresh from school after SPM, I decided to take up A-Levels and I’m glad that I chose the right institution. Basically, HELP offers a conducive learning environment, including a full team of dedicated and intelligent lecturers. In addition, the Department of Student Affairs did well to cultivate the talent and potential of students through clubs, societies and sporting events to enable the students to improve their interpersonal skills and maintain a well-balanced lifestyle. Hype Excellent Learning Phase!”

Farhan Ashraq Bin Abdul Malek

“Throughout my time at the Law Faculty at HELP, I gained invaluable knowledge and skills which later proved to be crucial during my final year studies in the United Kingdom. I was surrounded by great teachers, with dedication and passion for the law, who guided and supported me in numerous ways, whom I cannot thank enough. I have no regrets in choosing HELP University for my legal education and am proud to say that I am an alumna of the University.”

UK Degree Transfer Programme (Law) LLB First Class Honours, University of the West of England, Bristol (2018)
Best Direct Entry Award achiever (University of The West of England, Bristol) (2018)

“Pursuing my first year of LLB at HELP provided a strong foundation of fundamental skills and understanding, which made the later years of my degree a more manageable task. The teaching team at HELP is second to none in terms of dedication and capability. I also cannot stress enough the relevance of the Legal Skills course (unique to HELP) in building strong practical and fieldwork skills in law students.”

Henna Nikita Sanghvi
UK Degree Transfer Programme (Law)
LLB First Class Honours, University of Manchester (2018)

“The law lecturers at HELP University were very helpful and professional, not only in delivering their teaching and making the students fully understand the points of law, but they also prepared the students to grasp the soft skills that are needed and trained them to think critically like a lawyer. Also, the legal skills and practice modules, which were only offered in the HELP Law programme, were particularly useful for all students who later might embark on the CLP course, or the UK Bar Exam in order to practise law, as it gave them a glimpse of the practical side of the legal world.”
